The staff of the Joint Committee on Taxation (the “Joint Committee”) today announces that it has posted to its website, www.jct.gov, copies of most known Joint Committee publications from 1926, when the Joint Committee was created, through the present. The postings provide Congressional offices and the general public with a more complete and searchable set of documents relevant to the evolution of the Internal Revenue Code, than the Joint Committee previously had made available on its website.

The Joint Committee staff recognizes former Chiefs of Staff, George Yin and Edward Kleinbard, for initiating the project and former staffers, Catherine Moran and David Miller, for cataloguing and compiling the documents. The Joint Committee staff also thanks the Secretary of the Senate’s Office of Conservation and Preservation and the Senate Librarian for providing valuable technical guidance and assistance.
